

THE STOUFFER TRIBUNE:

The Voice of the Residents of Stouffer College House

Vol 3, No 1

August 2003

WELCOME BACK TO STOUFFER:

Faculty Master Says Hi To Stouffer College House, "Hi."

By Phil Nichols

Welcome back to Stouffer. I hope that everyone had an excellent summer, hung out with old friends and made a few new, saw a bit of the family, maybe flirted with the idea of rekindling old romances or maybe starting a few that you never got around to last time.

This is the first issue of this volume of the Stouffer Tribune. There are a few things in here to which you should pay attention. Most important are the paragraphs of introduction from some of the people you will be living with, because these are the people with whom you will be living. And ultimately, it is the people who make Stouffer a College House, not the walls or the roofs (now hot tubs, that would be a different story, but we have none). There are some fine people who live in Stouffer, and the humor-challenged introductions in this issue are a good representation.

The other thing to pay attention to is the fact that this is the welcome back issue. You may be happier than anything to be coming back to Penn, or you may be walking that last mile slow like you are coming back to your own execution, or your feelings may be somewhere in between. That's okay. Stouffer is uniformly happy that each of you is coming back. Whether you are the most outgoing leader or the most hidden of ghosts or somewhere in between, you are a member of our community and Stouffer is here for you.

So, welcome back, welcome home. The boys are looking forward to seeing you, and so are the dogs. Drop by and say hello when you get here.

WHO'S WHO IN STOUFFER COLLEGE HOUSE:

FROM HORRIBLY DULL TO SLIGHTLY LESS HORRIBLY DULL

As much as I'd like to tell you that the Stouffer Tribune has gotten better in the one year that it's been in existence...well, I have the power to do that so it has. Sure, the name's the same, many of the fonts are the same, I am still the editor, I am still better than you in every conceivable way, and you can still send me articles, hate mail, and love mail to JSCHNEI2@SAS.UPENN.EDU. But, it's gotten better because more people have submitted, from the loneliest bus station skank to the most high-society debutante bus station skank and a ton of cool and exciting people in between. This issue features some people who are funny; one who is a self-proclaimed idiot. All are staff members. For all the incoming Freshman, welcome. For all the returning students, welcome back. And, without much further ado I bring to you the Who's Who of Stouffer College House. – James Schneider, Ed. ST

Phil Nichols – Faculty Master

Email: Nicholsp@wharton.upenn.edu

I am a professor in the Legal Studies department here at Penn. I grew up on a farm in Oregon. I rowed crew in college, which is why there is an oar hanging in my apartment - 172F Stouffer Hall, come and see it. My goals for Stouffer this year are (1) for every single person to be able to be truly the best of whatever they are, and (2) hot tubs.

Phil looks snappy in a suit, yet finds time to be a top-notch hot tub advocator. Excellent! – Ed.

Wonderful to meet you Mr. Camp and congratulations on all your success. You smell terrific. - Ace

Amy Nichols - Associate Master

Email: Amyn@pobox.upenn.edu

About the Stouffer kids (Tanner, Hilyard and Browning).....

When we first moved in to Stouffer College House seven years ago, two of our three sons were in diapers and I had regular nightmares about their careening over the patio railing to the “grass” below. I still periodically have those nightmares, but the boys are now at least toilet savvy at ages 7, 8 and 10 and their flight over the railing is much more graceful. You can’t miss them. They run in a pack and they think the patio is one big jungle gym. I’ll bet you never thought of leaping over the stairs and into the planters.

About Amy.....

Here’s the boring stuff: I have degrees from Duke (BA, 1988) and Georgetown (MBA, 1993) and I grew up in McLean, Virginia. My high school’s mascot was a snail. No kidding.

Among other things, I am the official Wednesday night cookie baker. I started the tradition of actually baking the cookies (as opposed to freeing them from cellophane packages) a few years ago on a dare from a then sophomore Stouffer resident. Let that be proof that residents have a say in what goes on around here!

About Millie and Mikey (the Nichols’ dogs).....

They love people. They really do. They still need to refine their social skills though so we’ve been serving them tea and crumpets every afternoon at 4pm.

With children and dogs, Amy easily corners the building’s “cute” factor. Noyce! – Ed.

Anne Mickle - House Dean

Email: Mickle@pobox.upenn.edu

Anne Mickle is the House Dean of Stouffer College House. Originally from NYC, she attended Connecticut College for undergrad picking up majors in both history and government. Anne went on to Columbia University Teachers College for her masters (Student Personnel Administration). Then she went to the University of Massachusetts, Amherst for her Doctorate (Higher Education Administration) and she wrote her dissertation on college student athletes. Anne spent much of the summer trying to improve her golf game and she hopes to pick up some new knitting projects during the school year (she needs something to get her through Steering meetings). Anne's goal for the upcoming school year is to continue all of the great Stouffer traditions and maybe start some new ones. Stop by and visit in 101A in Stouffer or 101 in Mayer.

Why doesn't Anne like me anymore? I'm the best manager, right? Oh god, I'm so insecure! – Ed.

Beth Hagovsky - Senior Fellow, A- Section

Email: Hagovsb@wharton.upenn.edu

Beth Hagovsky hails from the great Garden State - New Jersey (go Devils!). She graduated from Rosemont College in 1993 and came to Penn for a grad degree in Higher Education Administration. She first worked at Penn in the Office of Student Life with SAC and the Junior and Senior Class Boards. Over five years ago, Beth made the jump to Wharton Undergrad where she is now the Senior Associate Director, which means she's an academic advisor and coordinates all of the student affairs initiatives within the Division. Should you have a question about Wharton classes - or if you're a Wharton wannabe - Beth is the person to ask. She's also a doctoral student and will be spending a lot of time writing this year. Beth has lived in Stouffer for almost three years and just this summer got a mouse-hunting cat named Loki - who loves to play with anything. Beth loves movies, theater, awards shows, The West Wing, and baking so whenever you smell something good, head on down to A section and see what's cookin'!

Phil told me that Resident Hottie B. won't break up with Shawn. For shame. – Ed.

Shannon Mattern - Faculty Fellow, 7th Floor

Email: Scmatter@sas.upenn.edu

Shannon Mattern, at your service. I'm a Mellon Postdoctoral Fellow in the History of Art Department here at Penn, and I'm happy to be serving as Interim Faculty Fellow, filling in for Felicity Paxton - whom many of you returning residents may know (and love) - as she retreats to England for the year. Right now I'm writing a book on the design of urban public library buildings - and I've spent the entire summer meandering through 13 of America's great cities, visiting their magnificent newly constructed library buildings. Before arriving in Philadelphia just over a year ago, I lived in New York City, where I completed my Ph.D. in media studies at NYU. Most of my research and teaching lies at the place where "space" (e.g., architecture, urban planning, etc.) and "media" meet. At NYU and the Parsons School of Design, I taught media criticism, media history, and design studies - and now at Penn I have taught, or will be teaching, classes on the histories of printing and graphic design, mass media and architecture, public design process, and place-based contemporary art. I'd be happy to have some Stoufferites join in on my fall and spring courses! I'm also a regular music-listener and concert-goer, a gallery-hopper (in Philly and NY), an amateur photographer, an outdoor-type, a lover-of-dogs (an owner of one, too), a film enthusiast, a fitness aficionado (although I despise running), and a for-the-most-part vegetarian - and I'm planning some events that match my interests to yours: music sharing (the legal variety), gallery tours, darkroom workshops, film nights, vegetarian dinners, etc., etc., etc. And I should point out that I'm one of those perpetually (and, some might say, annoyingly) ahead-of-schedule folks - so if you need some tips on time management, or general "life logistics," I'd be glad to lend an ear and perhaps a few helpful words. I'll be joined this year by my boyfriend Zeek, who does Open Source (read: non-monopolistic, do-it-yourself) computer stuff, enjoys tending to potted plants and playing around with satellite descramblers. And then there's Roxy, the white-socked girl-puppy, whom we rescued from behind a dumpster earlier this year. Stop by, introduce yourself, and drop in regularly!

Faculty Fellow Version 3.7 does everything you'd ever want to do and far more. Impressive! - Ed.

Lisa Kutzing - GA, B- Section Stouffer Hall

Email: Lisamk@nursing.upenn.edu

Hi! My name is Lisa Kutzing, and I am the GA for Stouffer B Section. I'm supposed to tell you a little about myself, so here goes...I was born and raised in Port Jefferson, NY, which is a small town on the north shore of Long Island. Before coming to Penn, I went to the University of Delaware for a few years as a psychology major, then changed my major, ran off to study in Spain for a semester, and then transferred to Penn, where I'm now a graduate student in the School of Nursing (I like to refer to that period of time as my "mid-life crisis at 20"). Some of my hobbies include running, sewing, crocheting, and traveling. I'm also a raging Mets fan (don't bother making fun of me for this—I am quite aware that they suck!). An interesting fact about me is that I used to be an internationally competitive racewalker. For those of you who don't know, racewalking is an Olympic track and field event—it's kinda funny looking, but trust me, it's hard!! I'm really excited about being a GA in Stouffer, and I have tons of ideas of fun things to do, such as apple picking in the Fall, trips to baseball games, World Series parties, weekly Real World gatherings (I'm a huge fan!), Spanish-language related activities, etc. I hope to get to know many of you in the coming weeks, and I'm open to any suggestions of activities to do this semester.

Last year's B- Section GA was named Lisa...m'kay. Your new name is Ex-Resident Lisa K.- Ed.

David Jackson - GA, C- Section Stouffer Hall

Email: Davidaj@sas.upenn.edu

My name is David Jackson. I will be a first time GA at Stouffer this year and can't wait to move in. I graduated from Davidson College in 1998 with a degree in Religion and since then I have worked as a whitewater raft guide, a city bus driver, a bellman, spent 3 months in Ecuador learning to surf, 1 month in Japan teaching Japanese raft guides to guide rafts, and 9 months in Cote d'Ivoire with the Peace Corps before we had to be evacuated due to a civil war. I am currently in the post-bacc pre-health program at Penn. I love doing anything outdoors or sports related and I would also love to get some interested folks to work with me on some community service projects in the area such as weekly visits to the local soup kitchen. I am also a huge fan of 80s television especially 80s tv theme songs and am not ashamed to admit that I can sing more than my fair share of these on command.

Ok, try this one: "Autobots fight their battle to destroy the evil forces of the Decepticons." - Ed.

Hey, you know former GA Naresh, that's pretty cool. You know, he knew GA Jen. - Ed. x2

Hey, I am determined to not leave blank space here. HA! Dave is my GA. - Ed. x3

Lyndsey Larson – GA, D- Section Stouffer Hall

Email: Lyndsey@mail.vet.upenn.edu

Hi. I'm Lyndsey. I'm a second year veterinary student and I will be a GA in Stouffer. I love big cities, salsa dancing, and my adorable pug, Lily. I'm excited to explore center city, try out some of the great restaurants in Philadelphia, and chill out watching some favorite TV shows. I grew up in Colorado and last year I made the big move out east to Philly. I've also lived in Mexico City for a year, also in Spain and in Chile. I am looking forward to my second year in vet school and to getting to know all of my fellow Stouffer residents.

Adorable pug? I prefer bearded goats, greased, oily pigs, and small, woodland creatures. – Ed.

Keshav Kumar – GA, E- Section Stouffer Hall

Email: Keshav@sas.upenn.edu

Keshav Kumar graduated from Indian Institute of Technology Madras (India), where he obtained his Masters degree in Chemistry. He joined Penn last summer for his PhD Degree. He is currently a second year doctoral student in the Chemistry department. He is going to be GA for the E-section of Stouffer hall. In his spare time he enjoys playing cricket and watching television. He loves to go out with friends and eat different kinds of foods and, most of all, meeting people. This is his first year at Stouffer and he is very excited about his life as GA. He is thinking of carrying out virtually every plan Stoufferites have an imagination for. For more details, stop by his room 165E in Stouffer Hall.

Virtually every plan, huh? Hopefully the stripper pole will fly by Steering with this newbie. – Ed.

Leslie McLaughlin – GA, F- Section Stouffer Hall

Email: Lesliem@mail.vet.upenn.edu

Hello everyone, my name is Leslie McLaughlin and I will be one of the fabulous GAs in Stouffer College House this coming year. I will be starting my second year at Penn's School of Veterinary Medicine. I was born in New Jersey but have spent most of my life calling Rio de Janeiro, Brazil home. I came to Penn after receiving a degree in biology from Brown University in Providence, RI. I loved my first year of vet school but felt a little isolated from the greater Penn community, so I am really excited about getting to know everybody. I love pretty much any activity that gets me outside (except golf) so many of my ideas for house activities are along the lines of mass 'Capture the Flag' tournaments, trails in Wissahickon park, walks around Old City... I also love Brazilian food – well, really it doesn't have to be Brazilian – and think cooking together might be fun. Mostly, though, I want to hear your ideas and hope that you will stop by to share them with me soon.

Isn't Rio one of the sites for Girls Gone Wild? Oh Brazil and its crazy beautiful nude women! - Ed.

Endel Liias – GA, 2nd Floor Mayer Hall

Email: Endelliias@hotmail.com

Hello to all Stouffer folk,

My name is Endel Liias and I am an idiot. However, despite my shortcomings, I feel I will be able to successfully fulfill my duties as the Graduate Associate on the second floor in Mayer Hall. I recently completed my undergraduate education at this tremendous institution we call Penn after four years of friends, knowledge and fun, and hope to be able to pass on my experience to current undergraduates. While at the University, I was a member of the varsity golf team for four years and met those people who I now consider my best friends in the world. Though I would say golf is my first passion, I am greatly interested by instruments, particularly guitar, nature and traveling. During my spring semester junior year, I was fortunate enough to live in New Zealand while pursuing my degree in tree hugging. (i.e. Environmental Studies). Despite having traveled many places in my life, the experience of mixing academics with a "foreign" culture was unlike anything I have ever before been involved in. Also during my junior year at Penn, I decided to submatriculate in the Environmental Studies program, which means I will receive my BA and Masters in that field in a total of five years, hopefully. I was born in Boston, Massachusetts in 1981 and have lived just north of the city in Melrose for the past 13 years. I have two wonderful parents, Jurgen and Gloria, and a wise older sister, Nejlá. I am thrilled about my opportunity to live in Stouffer College House and be part of such a vibrant and enthusiastic community. I look forward to meeting all of you and aiding you in your quest for wisdom, success and happiness. Cheers, Endel. (PREPARE FOR GOONIES REFERENCE – Ed.)

He may be an idiot but he sure can golf. Wasn't it Chunk's friend who said, "FORE-EHHH-VER."

Jaime Seidman - GA, 3rd Floor Mayer Hall

Email: Jaimeseid@aol.com

Hello and welcome all! My name is Jaime Seidman and I am the GA for the third floor of Mayer Hall. I was born and raised in Long Island, NY and will be a first year student in the School of Dental Medicine. I received my B.A. in biology from Hofstra University in December. While at Hofstra I spent most of my time conducting research and hope to continue to do so at Penn. Since I don't know Philly very well I look forward to exploring the city and hope you'll be able to lend a hand. Some things I enjoy are cooking, traveling, good cuisine, and sleeping. If any students are interested in letting me practice my newly learned dental techniques on them just let me know. I look forward to meeting all of you this year so stop by 308 and say hi!

Jaime is one of the bevy ready to oust Hottie B. Vote begins now on her house title. - Ed.

Beverly Jogan – GA, 4th Floor Mayer Hall

Email: Beverlyj@mail.vet.upenn.edu

Beverly Jogan, a returning Mayer GA, is originally from Reading, PA and is entering her second year in the School of Veterinary Medicine. She attended Penn undergrad, majoring in Biology and Anthropology. For the past five years, she has been playing the cello in the Penn Symphony Orchestra and Baroque Ensemble, and also loves traveling, especially to South America. She is very excited to plan trips, to see performances on the Avenue of the Arts, and may also take an occasional bus ride for craft supplies :)

I have a friend who is addicted to shark porn. Wanna share yours with her? Yeah, you do! – Ed.

Derek Sanders – GA, 5th Floor (Healthy Living Floor) Mayer Hall

Email: Dereks1@dolphin.upenn.edu

Hello Everyone! My name is Derek Sanders and I will be the GA on the 2nd floor of Mayer. I am a second year dental student and a Dean's Scholar at the School of Dental Medicine. I graduated summa cum laude from Michigan State University (archrival to Penn State) with a BA in Economics. At MSU I held numerous positions in my fraternity, Alpha Tau Omega, and was a TA for the Economics Department.... So, if anyone needs help with Economics, come see me. I grew up in West Bloomfield, Michigan which is a suburb of Detroit...AND to answer your questions...YES, I have hung out with Eminem and have met Kid Rock...wanna see pictures? In the summertime, you can find me in Belmar, NJ at my rental beach-house. My hobbies include working-out and eating healthy, golfing, downhill skiing, and riding my motorcycle. At the Stouffer community, I would like to plan a number of activities including the following: a golf outing, a ski-trip to the Poconos, and weekly healthy living presentations including tips on nutrition, diet, exercise, and weight-training. I would also like to keep last year's tradition alive by hosting the Friday Night – Movie Night on the deck. And, how could I forget, I would like to organize the March Madness Basketball Tournament Pool...just a pre-warning...watch out for MSU!

Do you have mad rhyming skillz like Marshall, or are you a twisted brown trucker like Bob? – Ed.

Emily Brueckner - GA, 6th Floor Mayer Hall

Email: Embrueckner@hotmail.com

Emily Brueckner graduated from the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, Massachusetts in 2001 with a BA in Religious Studies. While at Holy Cross, she was an RA, participated in the Appalachia Service Project during Spring Breaks, and among other things, spent too many hours as a student worker in the dining hall. After graduation she became a member of the Jesuit Volunteer Corps and worked at a domestic violence shelter in Phoenix (which is slated to soon replace Philadelphia as the 5th largest US city). In Arizona she shared an apartment with other volunteers and a family of mice, experienced 360 days of consecutive sunshine, and learned to differentiate between 108 and 113 degrees. As a first year grad student in the School of Social Work, Emily is extremely excited to be joining the Stouffer House community and living on the 6th floor of Mayer Hall and is looking forward to a great year. And...despite the fact that she is from a small town in Rhode Island, she is a huge fan of country music...and loves to sing along, much to the usual disappointment of those around her. Em is short for Emily and also too nice to make fun of here. Welcome, do-gooder! – Ed.

James Schneider - Communications Manager

Email: Jschnei2@sas.upenn.edu

I am a Senior in SAS, majoring in anthropology with a cultural concentration. Stouffer College House has been my home since summer 2000 and I can declare with supreme confidence that Stouffer is the finest college house in the Universe. As Communications Manager, I edit The Stouffer Tribune, post flyers for GA events and send countless emails pleading for people to write for the ST. I was recently named the Guide's Section Editor for 34th Street Magazine, having spent the past two years as a contributor to the music section. Jschnei2@sas.upenn.edu is the most important address for anyone who may have articles or article ideas. For budding artists, the ST stands as a great opportunity to show off your skills to nearly 300 residents. Even if you are completely untalented and merely have a funny picture or quote I want EVERY member of the house to contribute. If you don't, well...I'll just write it all myself. I look forward to meeting all the incoming students. Please feel free to stop by 234C, I'll probably be there writing the Tribune or picking my Fantasy Football lineup. Please visit my website at www.sas.upenn.edu/~jschnei2.

Semi-recycled hack crap; who writes this garbage? More importantly, where are my pants? – Ed.

Nicole Li - Computing Manager

Email: Nnicole@sas.upenn.edu

Nicole Li here. She's going to be the other Computing Manager of Stouffer/Mayer College house. Well, her name is actually Ning-Ran Li, but how many people would be able (or willing for that matter) to try and scream THAT name while running down Locust walk trying to make this girl turn around? I wouldn't!! And that's MY name. To make a long story short, "Nicole Li here." Nicole Li is a junior in the college studying chemistry...She likes her courses; really, she does. I mean, who WOULDN'T love organic chem lab, right? She is an Asian who has chosen to weather the storm and inform her parents that she will NOT be a doctor. She was born in China, lived in Philly for most of her life, and was severely traumatized that her parents had just recently moved to Jersey. Severely. She has been an ITA for 2 years now, and enjoys dancing, playing pool, tennis, ping-pong (she LOVES ping-pong), swimming (well, she will enjoy swimming more once she learns how to swim) and other recreational activities.

As mentioned, Nicole will be one of the Computing Managers of the house, and she would like to make this year as smooth and as computer-problem free as possible. She hopes that she'll have a chance to meet many of you this year!

"Nicole Li here," says Nicole Li. Taking a bit after Mr. Dole and other 3rd person speakers. - Ed

Mijung Yun – Computing Manager

Email: Miyun@sas.upenn.edu

I am a Junior majoring in Finance and AMES with Chinese concentration, involved in Penn Chamber Music Society and Koreans at Penn. I was born and raised in Seoul, Korea, but I also lived in Massachusetts and New York for a few years. After drifting around many different places, now I am happily settled living in Mayer room 314 for the third year. With my roommate Nicole Li, we are serving as the Computing Managers. I hope everyone finds home in Stouffer College house, hopefully without any computer problem.

But what if people have a computer problem or no home? Don't crack under the pressure. - Ed.

Kevin Galloway - Facilities Manager

Email: Kcg@sas.upenn.edu

You can use what I wrote last year. I am completely dull, so I hope you understand. ~Kevin [Your wish is my command – Ed.]:

Kevin Galloway is the Facility Manager for Stouffer and Mayer. So, if you need to get into storage or reserve a conference room, talk to him because those are his only responsibilities. If you want tp, paper towels, or the bathroom cleaned, talk to the cleaning lady (remember this when you are filling out the house survey a couple months from now =). Currently, Kevin is a second year senior majoring in mechanical engineering. If you have any questions about switching into engineering late in the game, talk to him. Kevin is a very interesting and handsome fellow. During his free time, Kevin enjoys designing furniture, tools, and so forth. Swing by his room (fourth floor Mayer) to see some of his latest creations!

Kevin, are you completely dull or an interesting and handsome fellow? Dull as a shoebox. - Ed.

Danielle Qi – Finance Manager

Email: Dqi@wharton.upenn.edu

Hey guys, my name is Danielle, and I'm a sophomore studying History in the College and Finance/Marketing in Wharton. I'm from Austin, Texas but do not own a horse, live on a ranch, or talk with a thick Texas accent. I love getting involved in activities and organizations here at school, so if you've found some fun new activity you'd like to try out, please come find me.

This year, I hope to improve Stouffer's financial processes and help to build upon the already vibrant Stouffer community. I'll be living on fourth floor Mayer - please stop by to say hi!

I'd insult you, but you'd probably turn your gun on me. Don't mess with Texas. - Ed.

Brenna Kelly - House Office Manager

Email: Brennad@sas.upenn.edu

Hi, my name is Brenna and I'll be the House Office Manager for this year. I'm a senior Biochemistry major and excited about that. Really. Other things I'm excited about are the new happenings in Pittsburgh (especially PNC Park), shrimp, my recent discovery of Tom Petty's Full Moon Fever album, and the upcoming school year. Really. I think this school year has major potential to be my best yet and hopefully an outstanding first, second, third or fourth year for you too. A critical part of making the school year great is, of course, working in the house office. I'll be hiring a staff of 6 or so people, probably even before the first day of school (so act fast). The job pays $7.00 an hour and will be the easiest job you'll ever have in your life (that's pretty much a promise). You can email me at brennad@sas.upenn.edu or call me at 215-380-2883 to talk to me about openings or if you have any other questions.

Something about openings and the easiest money you make in your life. You a pimptress? - Ed.

Matt Sklar – Special Events and Recreation Manager

Email: Msklar@seas.upenn.edu

Greetings Stoufferites old and new! Welcome to the beginning of another great year at Penn. For those of you who haven't met me, my name is Matt Sklar and I'm easily identified by the third arm growing out of my chest. Like half of Penn I hail from Long Island, Valley Stream specifically, just east of New York City. I am a Senior (wow its even scarier when you put it in writing) studying Computer Science in the Engineering school, with a minor in Psychology. This will be my 4th year in Stouffer College House, I spent two in Stouffer (F Section Pride), and this will be my second year living in Mayer.

Now as to why I'm telling you all this useless information about myself... this year I am proud to be returning to Stouffer as the Special Events and Recreation Manager, and I have a ton of great ideas lined up. Let me take a minute and explain to you why my job is so great. I get paid to have fun. That is all. Ok, so there's a little more to it than that, I plan events for the House, everything from movie nights and Quizzo, to trips to NYC and hopefully this year paintball. I'm here to help all of us have a little fun and relax from the stresses of classes and work, so don't hesitate to come to me with any ideas for events you would like to see done. I'm looking forward to another great year at Penn, unfortunately my last.

You gotta get that third arm thing checked, dude. As Rec manager, he's paid to be a fungi. – Ed.

Melissa Schaefer – Information Center Specialist

Email: Meschaef@pobox.upenn.edu

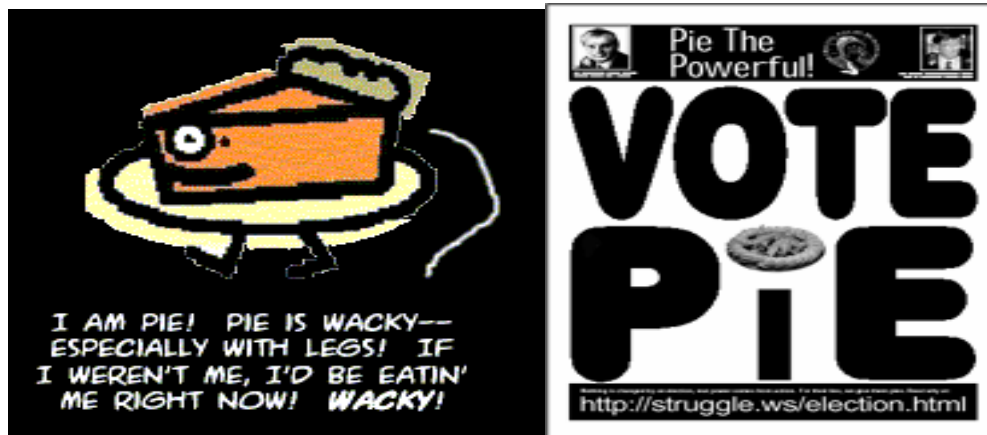

I graduated from Arcadia University with a BS in Business Administration in May 2002. Currently, I am a studying for my Master's degree in Higher Education Management. This will be my second year at Stouffer, and after spending a summer working in one of the highrises, I am so glad to be back. If you ever have any questions involving Penn, Philadelphia, etc... please stop by the Information Center in the D-section, and I will try my best to help you.

You are naked and need a room key. She will help you turn the knob. Nice "arcadia." – Ed.

Everett Herman – House Coordinator

Email: Everett@alumni.upenn.edu

Everett Herman graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 2003 with a degree in Communication and a minor in Film Studies. As an RA for two years in Community House and Spruce House, he couldn't get enough and is back as a House Coordinator at Stouffer and Dubois College Houses. Everett is looking forward to making college life run smoothly for the residents and staff at Stouffer College House! I don't even know who you are anymore, Josh. What's become of our house coordinator?

Send all complaints to Jschnei2@sas.upenn.edu. Hope you enjoyed it!
